

Care to Lend Me Your Ear?

1001 Inventions

Posted by: lendmeurear | February 19, 2010

I got so excited after discovering a wonderful site worth visiting:

1001 Inventions – Discover The Muslim Heritage In Our World

"For a thousand years, Muslim civilisation stretched from southern Spain as far as China. From the 7th century onwards, scholars of many faiths built on the ancient knowledge of the Egyptians, Greeks and Romans, making breakthroughs that paved the way for the Renaissance.

The discoveries made by men and women in Muslim civilisation have left their mark on the way we live today. 1001 Inventions uncovers a thousand years of science and technology that had a huge but hidden impact on the modern world."

The foundation held an exhibition in London that started Jan. 21st and will end April 25th. If you ever go to London around those dates, you should definitely visit! Here's a video:

