

NOOR FUSION

SATURDAY, 20 FEBRUARY 2010

1001 Inventions Exhibition: The Golden Age Of Islam

1001 Inventions Exhibition, Science Museum, London

Dates: January 21st-April 25th (closed February 25th-March 12th)

Times: 10am-6pm: FREE ENTRY

Location: South Kensington

Discover the Muslim heritage in our world, which traces the forgotten story of a thousand years from the Muslim world from the 7th century onwards. This exhibition looks at the social, scientific and technical achievements that are accredited to the Muslim world.

The Exhibition has been produced in association with the Jameel Foundation.

An interactive exhibition from design, through to engineering and medicine from the Golden Ages of Islam.

POSTED BY NADIA KHALIQ AT 20:44 